

It's been one year since the groundbreaking ceremony for Reimagine Pleasant Street. We have accomplished significant milestones including:

EIGHTH STREET RE-OPENS AHEAD OF SCHEDULE

As you've likely noticed, Eighth Street is open to traffic, and it opened two weeks ahead of schedule. The two new roundabouts will improve traffic flow and safety, making it easier to visit downtown Noblesville. Construction crews constructed the sidewalks and trails along 8th Street, which are helping improve connectivity and walkability in Noblesville, Hamilton County, and beyond when the project is complete in 2025.

CONCRETE POURED FOR NEW BRIDGE

Another major milestone is the bridge deck being poured for the new bridge over the White River. What is a bridge deck? It's the surface cars drive on, so this milestone is a big step in creating another east-west connection for Noblesville. More than 180 trucks delivered concrete to the site, and 480,000 pounds of rebar was used on the bridge deck. That's the weight of 5 Boeing 737 airplanes!

In case you missed Mayor Jensen's State of the City address, check out this video highlighting the progress and success of Pleasant Street.

HOLIDAY CELEBRATIONS AROUND NOBLESVILLE

Noblesville has several holiday activities, including Lights Over Seminary and the ice plaza at Federal Hill Commons. Plan your holiday festivities and support our local events!

NEXT STEPS

Preliminary work for Phases 2 and 3 will begin this Winter. Phase 2 consists of widening Pleasant Street and reconstructing the existing 19th Street roundabout. Phase 3 features new roadway construction, including a new bridge over Cicero Creek and new roundabout at the intersection of SR 32 and Hague Road. Learn more about the phases and schedule here:
